APFL playoff seeding still up for grabs

Blackhawks set with #1 seed; Outlaws, WolfPack to battle for #2

Posted June 22, 2010

Iowa Blackhawks News Team

The Iowa Blackhawks have won the regular-season American Professional Football League title with a 41-37 win over the Mid-Missouri Outlaws on June 18th. The rest of the playoff seeding picture is still somewhat up for grabs.

The #2 ranked Outlaws (6-2) will host the #3 ranked Springfield WolfPack (5-3) this Saturday at the Mathewson Expo Center in Sedalia. The winner will earn the number two seed in the playoffs and the right to host a first round playoff game. The WolfPack hold the tiebreaker by defeating the Outlaws 52-41 at home last month.

Now, if the WolfPack lose, and the Kansas Koyotes defeat the Blackhawks, the WolfPack would fall all the way to the fourth seed and be forced to host a play-in game versus the Junction City Force on July 3rd with the winner of that game to travel to Council Bluffs on July 10th to play the Blackhawks.

Stay tuned, it's going to be an interesting weekend of football in the APFL.

Playoff Scenarios:

Blackhawks - Clinched #1 seed and home-field advantage throughout

Outlaws clinch #2 seed with win; #3 with loss to WolfPack

WolfPack clinch #2 seed with win; #3 seed with Koyotes loss

Koyotes clinch #3 seed with WolfPack loss and win over Blackhawks

Current standings:
